O R D E R

18 Civ. 8783 (NRB)

The Court has reviewed the parties' letters of February 19 and February 25, 2020. Based on that review, it is clear that both parties are willing to proceed without disclosing the identity and place of employment of the Protected Witness and without relying on any of the Protected Witness' deposition testimony. Accordingly, counsel shall remain bound by the Attorneys' Eyes Only stipulation and the parties are prohibited from using the Protected Witness' deposition testimony in any way. All references to the Protected Witness or his deposition testimony shall be removed from all expert reports, and, to the extent that any experts have learned any information about the Protected Witness, counsel shall inform those experts that they are barred from disclosing that information to anyone.
